We also finished the inequality between the peoples. To overcome this problems, there are mays ways to finished it. The ways like educating them, respects them or give them more opportunities so that they can do according to their will. But one thing that they should have given and that is their rights. Because right is one of the important in life. If there is no rights for you than your hope will so be dead. Islam which is the religious of the Pakistan also taught us to give their rights as well as light of the way to the people living in the society. We should at least follow the path of the Islam as the Muslims. By taking these step, there would be a chance to overcome this problem and also decrease the class difference between the peoples living in the society. If you can do this, then there would not be a name of the inequalities and it causes. After this, poor people will no longer suffer in the hand s of the others in the society and starting living their life according to their will. And this is way of Islam. In the end, I want you to follow the path of the Islam as the Islam is a path of living the life according to the Allah's will. And Allah always show us the right path. If we didn't follow the path of the Islam, then Allah don't show us the right path. And the evil path would ruined your life as well as the people of the society. Questions to be discussed: Q1. How does the wage gap increase long term inequality for women? Q2. How do different variables impact a person's position in society? Q3. Can policies be designed to legislate away various forms of inequality? Why or why not? Q4. Consider the social differences between individuals who inherited their wealth and individuals who made their "new" money. How might they differ in how they display their wealth and their lifestyles? Q5. In your opinion, for some people to be rich do others have to be poor? Is extreme wealth in and of itself a social problem? Significance: This report really could not change their mind of the people of the society regarding class difference but we could spend the aware of it disadvantage, its impact and its causes. And at least they should know that what will the cause and the impact on the society of the injustice, class differences and think about yourself. This report should at least aware that there would be poor people who need their help to stay alive and overcome their suffer. If this report successful create an awareness among those people who give priority themselves over other, then this society will become peaceful to those who suffer the most in their life and want to live in a peaceful society. Preview of the Argument: . The argument of the report is about to change their mind of the people who have the money and the frame of the society regarding thinking about themselves and they did not look upon the poor people which need their help. This argument is about to understand the people that they should give the same amount of respect to the poor people as they do to the richer people so that the inequalities would be finished. This report would spread the awareness among them. Methodology: We are use of the article as the sources of references because in article, the writer always write as the neutral in the topic of any. These article would help us to look as the neutral on the both sides of the people. These article would really help us to understand the problem from both of the sides of the people and then these article would us to write a report about the main problems and give the best possible solution to the people of the society which will suffer most.
