

PLAGIARISM SCAN REPORT

| | |
|------|------------|
| Date | 2020-05-14 |
|------|------------|

| | |
|-------|-----|
| Words | 869 |
|-------|-----|

| | |
|------------|------|
| Characters | 4622 |
|------------|------|

Content Checked For Plagiarism

These are the way that I think would has been the best way to overcome the wage difference between men and women. These ways are helpful for the women who are want to be overcome this wage difference between men and women so that women should have a given equality in the society. I think these 13 ways are enough to know about their rights on education and wage in the society and how important this is in the society to live. Because if the wage difference between men and women is not finished and yet the huge wage gap would become problematic, not just for the woman but for the society. So the government and biggest and smallest company should be aware of it if this wage difference is wipe out. For a good start to finish it, women would be to get most out of the work that men do. And this is what jobs demand from the women. By these jobs would be better than before and that leads to the sector or industries to pay you a better. As you see, if women get a proper education in the society, especially what jobs demand then these sector or industries who doesn't give the pay well to the women are given a better pay to the women. There are so many long term effects of inequalities of the wage gap between men and women for the women. As you can see that in this era, Numbers of Women population are in higher position in the occupational field or any other field in the industry or political. But in some countries of the world, women are dominated by the man, especially in Pakistan. In Pakistan, in many cases, Men are paid more than Women but in some cases, Men are paid equally to the Women. In Pakistan, the life of women is controlled by the protective society. These society doesn't provide an equal rights of women in Pakistan. These rights are the health, income, education, security and participation in politics. So these rights to not getting it can increase the inequality for women of wage differences between men and women. If women cannot get their rights then they should not aware of their rights in a long period of times. So this society provides a rights to the women, this would be a revolution for them. Second of all, if women are not getting same amount of pay as men have in the same level of job is an illegal in a society. If we are prompting this illegal things and don't do something against it to stop it, this thing would never be finished in a long times. And women always gets injustice from the society. If the women is never getting as same as men does and woman is the only one who is earning from her family and she even working more harder to earn morn but couldn't give her as expected pay as she expected. This seems to be unfair for her. And I thinks this would decreases the labour rate because she didn't get as much as she deserves and maybe she left the company. This would definitely decreases the labour rates. By this, an economic growth will be effect because the economic growth is also depend on the wage. If there would be wage difference between men and women, the economic growth would might be affected or maybe decrease. Another long term effect would be an expense of the living. 6 The main reason that why peoples need is to get jobs who pay you a well so that you can live well by these pays. But in case of the women, they did not get well as much as men does. This lead to the chaos. That chaos would be how they would pay the expense of the living if they did not have as much paid as men does. I think that if we and our society gives the rights that they deserves. So that they at least a fighting chances in the society where they should have chances of fighting against their rights wills. I thinks that if they know their rights then automatically the wage differences would be decrease. But in reality, over 80 % of the women is not well educated in Pakistan and they did not know about their rights. That's why there are so much chaos between men and women about wage differences that women are not pay well as much as men does. This would be overcome by educating the women about their rights. Government should be focus on the wage differences problems if they did not want decreases the economic growth rates and labour rates of women. And try to finish this illegal crime. As Islam always tells and teach us about the equality of women and men. So at least we should the way of the Islam and give the equal pays to the women so that they will a good expense of living what they decided and chaos between men and women about wage differences would be finished. And also for the women that they should know about their rights.

Matched Source

No plagiarism found